"what was that?" in English. The American said, "may I owie". And the French person said, "what are you trying to say?" The American said, "well, don't you understand French?" And the French person said, "yes, when I hear French spoken". Now, to go back to what I wanted to talk about, if you look at what is stated in the handout that Senator Landis gave us from "delow-itty tooshay", you do not see anything in here that suggests the enactment of legislation; nothing that talks about a bill like what we have before us here today. So if this constitutes Exhibit A or the strongest argument that can be prevented, then it's not a very helpful argument in favor of passing this bill. Here is what is stated on the front page of this paper, right under "Issue Statement", "A primary reason Nebraska is lagging in entrepreneurial development is the lack of an understanding of the benefit of local investment (that is the resulting economic stimulation of growing new businesses, new economy business)", that's what it says, "(new economy business generation and job growth). As a result the state does not have a strong support environment or funding network to form a breeding ground for entrepreneurs. The state has the assets and potential to create an entrepreneurial environment to promote economic growth and increase the average wage in the state. Now the tools need to put in place to foster its development". And it doesn't say create a new level of bureaucracy in the government by passing a bill and giving $200,000 or any amount to a private person or entity to do these things. If you drop farther down the page, you find these words, "Nebraska does not have adequate funding mechanisms to support the innovative business ideas generated by its population". Funding mechanisms means the way to get that money to the one who wants it. This bill doesn't do that. This "delow-itty toochy, touchy, tooshay" tells us that the funding mechanisms are not here, they're not in the state. But when available, venture capital funds in the state tend to be conservative. That means they are tight-fisted, they are not high rollers. They will loan you a dime if you've got 11 cents in collateral. And the funding that is available is not enough to meet the demand in Nebraska. There is not all this money in the state, yet here is what this statement of intent or these findings are that you all wanted to leave in the bill, now "delow-itty tooshay" tells you that there are not enough of
